Attention All Chambers of Commerce, Service Clubs, and Organizations:

It is extremely rare when we have a guest speaker for our monthly Nuts and Bolts Seminar's that ignite our members to action. Last month we invited Len Merson of Productivity Concepts, Inc, to make a presentation on "Turning Chaos into Productivity".

He was animated, electrifying, humorous and on target with our business owners. Within 24 hours I had received several e-mails from our members telling me they had begun using his methods of organization. One of these members has since hired Len to help their printing business benefit from his expertise.

If you are looking for an excellent speaker who can get results you should consider Len Merson. He changes the way you look at the top of your desk, your file drawers, and e-mails.

Please feel free to contact me if you need further information on his qualifications.

Sincerely,

Gary L. Powers
President/CEO
